CBD for Athletes

💙 ATHLETES FROM AROUND THE SPORTING WORLD ARE GETTING INTO CBD – HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT IT! 🏆

Numerous studies show that CBD shows promise in helping relieve pain (including musculoskeletal pain from exercise) and reduce inflammation, which is very useful for athletes.

This is because CBD is a non-psychoactive treatment for pain. 🦵

And not only that, but a 2018 report from the World Health Organization indicates that CBD doesn't have the potential for misuse or dependence — unlike other pain-relieving substances!

In fact, it's suggested that CBD could be used as a way to treat addiction to opioids and other substances with risks of dependence, allowing athletes a much better alternative.

What you should be careful about if you decide to give CBD a try?

Take CBD from a reliable source to avoid the risk of contamination with THC. Given CBD's popularity, there will be many unreliable sources out there, but we know one way to avoid them...
